The Bowling Green Falcons will head west for the second time in three weeks as they are set to face the Wyoming Cowboys at War Memorial Stadium in Laramie, Wyoming. The Falcons are desperate for a win having dropped their last two games by an average of 19 points. College football betting odds at Sportsbook.com have the MAC Falcons as a -3 road favorite.

Bowling Green started their season with a bang by beating Pittsburgh 27-17 on the road. However, they did not carry the momentum from that win into their next two games and they have struggled to put points on the board. The Falcons are averaging just 17 points per game and quarterback Tyler Sheehan has thrown two touchdowns to three interceptions on the season.

Wyoming is having a forgettable season thus far. While they do have a 2-2 record, there are major questions for them on the offensive side of the ball. The Cowboys have mustered just 10 points per game and a miserable 256.5 yards per game. Quarterback Dax Crum has a pathetic 91.3 efficiency rating and the ground game has not been strong enough to compensate for Wyoming's toothless aerial attack.

Bowling Green vs Wyoming Betting Odds Trend: Bowling Green is 3-7 straight up in their last 10 games as a road favorite.
