"We are currently experiencing DNS issues with our website.

Until resolved, Bodog's customers should visit www.newbodog.com for the complete Bodog experience.

Nearly all aspects of the website have been updated to reflect the environment clients are accustomed to at Bodog.com. We are working to resolve any remaining issues on the temporary site as soon as possible.

These problems are the direct result of a dispute over the ownership of the Bodog.com domain name. We are fighting this dispute and are confident that we will win.

I sincerely apologize to any customers affected by our interruption.

We will have further updates as information becomes available."

Calvin Ayre, Founder, Bodog.com
