Tiger's continued winning has made him an odds favorite to challenge for the Grand Slam of Golf. The holiest and most prestigious title a golfer can hold. It consists of winning all four Majors. The Masters, the British Open, the U.S. Open and the Tour Championship, in one calendar year. Bodog is currently offering odds of 9/1 that Tiger will win all four Majors.

He held all four Majors in a row through the 2000-01 season, which was dubbed the "Tiger Slam" because many believed it wasn't a true Grand Slam because it wasn't within a calendar year. It was considered a "Consecutive Grand Slam".

Here is a breakdown of his Major finishes: The Masters The British Open U.S. Open PGA Championship
