The 75th Sugar Bowl will take place tonight at 8:00pm ET at the Superdome in New Orleans, Louisiana. The Utah Utes of the Mountain West conference will be facing the SEC's Alabama Crimson Tide in this FOX televised BCS clash. BCS bowl betting odds at SBGglobal.com have Alabama listed as a -9.5 against the spread favorite.

The Crimson Tide shocked everyone with their performance this season as they returned just 13 starters from a 7-6 2007 team. Alabama rolled their way through the regular season schedule, going 12-0 and earning a spot in the SEC Championship Game. However, despite going 8-0 in conference play and winning the SEC's West division, Nick Saban's squad did not have enough to beat Florida for the conference title. As a result of their 20-31 loss to the Gators, the Crimson Tide fell to fourth in the BCS rankings.

Alabama played a fierce brand of defense this season, allowing teams just 78.8 rushing yards per game and a lowly 13 points per game.

Utah returned 14 starters and 55 lettermen from last year's 9-4 club. Their experience proved to be invaluable as they toiled their way to a remarkable 12-0 record and a Mountain West championship. The Utes, who won by an average of 20.2 points per game this season, are this year's BCS buster as a result of their unblemished record and current number six ranking in the BCS standings.

Head Coach Kyle Whittingham's squad proved that they were more than capable both offensively and defensively during the course of the regular season. They averaged 37.4 points per game on an average of 403.2 yards per game, and they held their opposition to a meager 17.3 points per game.

Allstate Sugar Bowl Betting Trend: The Under is 7-3 in Alabama's last 10 games playing as a favorite.
