Philipp Petzschner defeated M. Zverev in a five set marathon in the second round. In the first round he beat R. Ram 2-6, 6-1, 7-6 (3), 6-1. He has 15 Challengers Circuit titles and 11 Futures titles. He's currently 4-10 with no titles this year and one career title. In October, he captured his first ATP Title in Vienna after he won his qualifying round matches and defeated top seeded Stanislas Wawrinka in the first round. He is known for his incredible bursts of speed around the court.

Lleyton Hewitt showcased tremendous variation in speed and placement to out-wit fifth seed Juan Martin del Potro of Argentina, winning 6-3, 7-5, 7-5. "I executed perfectly," said Hewitt. "I hit the ball great. Served unbelievable for most of the match and I took it to him right from the start. It was a big win. I wanted to beat a top five guy. These are the places you want to do it, too." It was Hewitt's first win over a Top 15 opponent since May 2007 and also his first Top 10 win at a Grand Slam championship since beating No. 2-ranked Andy Roddick in the 2005 Australian Open semi-finals, breaking a streak of 12 consecutive losses. Hewitt has reached the fourth round (or better) for the past five years.
