Point-Spreads.com is issuing a College Football Odds Alert at 6:30 AM EST on September 18th, 2009 for the College Football Week 3 SEC match up between Tennessee vs Florida. The opening college football odds had the Florida Gators -28½ (-110 odds). Currently, the best college football odds to bet the Gators is at online sportsbook Bookmaker.com, you can get Florida -29½ (-110 odds). The best college football odds to bet the Volunteers is at Bodog.com, you can get Tennessee +30 (-110 odds).

"I don't know that that really works," stated Tennessee Vols head coach Lane Kiffin. "What works is when you recruit really good players and you coach really well, which they have, and when you have Tim Tebow and throw the ball to Percy Harvin and you hand it to (Jeff) Demps and (Chris) Rainey. That makes motivation work really well, when you recruit great players on defense and coach them as well as Charlie Strong does. That's how you haven't given up a touchdown all year."

The opening college football odds on the Tennessee vs Florida Total was 51½ points. The best place to bet the OVER is at JustBet.com, you can get Vols vs Gators OVER 50 points. The best place to bet the UNDER is at Sportsbook.com, you can get Tennessee vs Florida UNDER 51 points.

"He recruited me hard, we had a great relationship," stated Florida Gators quarterback Tim Tebow about Lane Kiffin trying to recruit the Heisman Trophy winner when the coach was at USC. "He's a good recruiter, I think he's a good coach. I think he's done a good job at Tennessee (so far)....I don't like anyone talking about Coach Meyer, I try to not let it affect me, although I always have Coach Meyer's back in anything because I know what type of person he is and I know what he believes in."
