Oklahoma vs Miami College Football Odds, College Football Predictions & College Football Picks: The Oklahoma Sooners and the Miami Hurricanes will meet for the second time in the last three seasons when they face off at Landshark Stadium tomorrow night in Miami, Florida. Bob Stoops' Sooners got the better of things in the last game, winning 51-13 in Norman. The two Top 25 squads are both 2-1 entering the highly anticipated clash, which is set to kickoff at 8:00pm ET ABC. College Football Odds at Bookmaker.com have the Hurricanes listed as a +7 against the spread home dog.

Oklahoma improved to 2-1 on September 19th beating the Tulsa Golden Hurricane 45-0 in Norman, Oklahoma. The Sooners racked up 529 yards, 27 first downs, and 11 third down conversions in the easy win. Quarterback Landry Jones, filling in for the injured Sam Bradford, threw a school record six touchdowns while completing 25-of-37 passes for 336 yards. Jones was complimented by a ground game that produced 193 yards at 4.3 yards per carry. Backs DeMarco Murray and Chris Brown combined for 133 yards in just 16 carries.

The Oklahoma defense limited Tulsa to 269 yards and six of 18 on third down in the victory. The Sooners have not allowed a point since giving up 14 to BYU in their season opening loss. On the season they are giving up an average of 223.3 yards and 4.7 points per game.

Miami generated a lot of hype leading up to last Saturday's Virginia Tech game, beating Florida State and Georgia Tech. Those wins suddenly do not look so great after the Canes got thumped 31-7 by the Hokies in Blacksburg. Miami managed a total of 209 yards and one third down conversion in the conference loss. Quarterback Jacory Harris, who looked brilliant in the team's first two games, had an awful day, completing 9-of-25 passes for 150 yards and an interception. The Hurricanes rushing attack failed to provide in relief for Harris, gaining just 59 yards (1.7 yards per carry).

Miami's defense got gashed for 272 rush yards, which allowed Tech to hold the ball for 33:20 compared to the Canes 26:40. Hokies running back Ryan Williams did most of the damage to Randy Shannon's front seven, rushing the ball 34 times for 150 yards and two touchdowns.

Game Notes: Sam Bradford has been ruled out for tomorrow night's game. Landry Jones will continue to start in the Heisman Trophy winner's place.

College Football Odds Betting Trend: Miami is 4-10 against the spread over the last five years playing as a home team coming off a loss.
