Arkansas vs. Ole Miss College Football Picks: The Arkansas Razorbacks and Ole Miss Rebels will tangle down in Oxford, Miss., in a SEC West battle at Vaught-Hemingway Stadium with kickoff set for 12:30 pm (ESPN-GP/SEC Network). The game takes on the appearance of an old neighborhood feud. To put it mildly, these teams don't really like each other.

College football picks oddsmakers at super-sportsbook Bodog.com list the Rebels as -6 1/2 chalk ATS and -250 moneyline favorites versus the Razorbacks with a 53 betting total. Arkansas backers are getting +210 moneyline odds as a road underdog.

Entering the season, Ole Miss was one of the media's darlings, picked as one of the SEC favorites but two early conference losses has sent the Rebels to the back pages. On the other hand Arkansas has been getting plenty attention as a team on the rise. While Arkansas stumbled out the gate - due mostly to its porous defense - the team has regrouped and is perhaps playing some of the best football in the SEC.

While Arkansas is getting plenty of attention, especially after their near upset of No. 1 Florida last week, Ole Miss must not be overlooked. Maybe that's why they are still almost a touchdown favorite for today's game. We aren't buying it - take the Hogs and the 6 1/2 points. If you like totals, you should jump on the OVER 53.
