Bowling Green vs Buffalo College Football Picks Predictions: College football fans will be treated to a MAC battle tomorrow night between the Bowling Green Falcons and Buffalo Bulls. The two East division rivals are set to kickoff at 7:00pm ET at UB Stadium in Buffalo, New York; the game will be broadcast live on ESPN2. College Football Picks Predictions at Sportsbetting.com have the Bulls listed as a -3 against the spread home favorite.

The Falcons fell to 3-5 overall and had a two game win streak snapped the last time they took the field (October 24th) as the Central Michigan Chippewas beat them 24-10. The loss brought Bowling Green's conference record to 2-2, but it did not change their fourth place standing in the East division. Dave Clawson's squad, however, could lose their position with a loss to the Bulls. Buffalo is just a game back with a 1-3 league record.

Bowling Green's offense should not have trouble scoring on the Bulls defense (25.6 points per game allowed). The Falcons rank 37th in the nation in yards per game at 403 and senior quarterback Tyler Sheehan has thrown for 2678 yards and 15 touchdowns to just five interceptions. Wide receiver Freddie Barnes has been one of the most prolific pass catchers in the nation this season, reeling in 99 receptions for 1059 yards and nine touchdowns.

Buffalo also had a two game win streak halted on October 24th, losing 31-34 in overtime at Western Michigan. The defeat dropped Turner Gill's Bulls to 3-5 overall and left them just a half game ahead of Miami, Ohio in the MAC East division standings.

The Bulls should also be able to find the end zone on a regular basis against Bowling Green's soft defense. The Falcons are yielding an average of 28.4 points per game and Buffalo ranks 32nd in the FBS at 410 yards per game.

College Football Picks Predictions Betting Trend: Bowling is 1-4 against the spread and straight up in its last five games as a road dog against a MAC foe with a spread between 0 and 3.5.
